

Arianna Denitto

PROFILE

Digital humanist with skills in the fields of print and digital publishing, literary translation, bilingual writing (IT/EN) and computer science. Active on social media with content revolving around book publishing, pop and indie culture, with particular interest in contemporary foreign literature of various genres. Currently involved in innovation and software development projects in the editorial field. LinkedIn Profile

RELEVANT WORKING EXPERIENCE

RESEARCH AND SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT INTERN

MONDADORI GROUP (GIULIO EINAUDI EDITORE), TURIN — 2026–PRESENT

Internship at Einaudi's IT Department, contributing to digital innovation projects within the Mondadori Group. Developing skills in Adobe InDesign 2025, programming and project development.

RESEARCH INTERN, FONDAZIONE BRUNO KESSLER, TRENTO — 2025–2026

Data science and analysis, academic writing. Scientific and linguistic research was conducted primarily in English. Key topics: internet jargon and queer slang, Natural Language Processing, Large Language Models.

CONTENT CREATOR AND BLOGGER — 2020–PRESENT

Personal project on social media in the fields of book publishing, pop and indie culture. <https://thelastwriter.com/>

EDUCATION

University of Turin, Italy, MA in Language Technologies and Digital Humanities (2025) - Grade: 110/110 with honors and honorable mention

Computing in the humanities (programming in Python, XML, CSS, HTML, Cypher/Neo4j), digital scholarly editing, English language, book editing workshop, philological, linguistic and literary studies.

Thesis title: "Inside Life Is Strange. Exploring Video Game Intertextuality through a Neo4j Knowledge Graph".

Alma Mater Studiorum, University of Bologna, Italy, BA in Asian Languages, Markets and Cultures (2023) - Grade: 107/110

English and Japanese language, linguistics and translation, Japanese culture and literature, business management, political economy, international relations, Eastern Asian history, philosophies and law.

Thesis title: "Gender and queer in Enchi Fumiko's works: female self-reflection through tradition and modernity".

High School Diploma (2018) - Grade: 100/100

Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, Latin language and literature, English language and literature, Italian language and literature, Philosophy, History.

LANGUAGES

Italian Native English C2 Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English

Spanish B2/C1 Japanese N4/N3 French A2/B1 Portuguese A2

ADDITIONAL EXPERIENCE

Collaborator at the International Mobility Office for the management of Erasmus+ procedures (University of Turin, 2024-2025), Museum guide in Spanish, English, Italian and French, sales assistant and front office (El Grifo, Lanzarote, Spain, 2022-2023), Travel content writer - English (South Tours Málaga, Spain, Erasmus+ Traineeship, 2021, portfolio: <https://ariadne28.github.io/south-tours-portfolio/>).

MAIN SKILLS

Languages and translation, SEO and creative writing, editing and proofreading, CAT tools (Matecat, Smartcat), research, editorial scouting, social media and storytelling, basic programming and web development.

PUBLICATIONS

“Dandelions”, Pride Stories Vol. 1, Kitsune Lab (2025), as Ariadne Taylor.
<https://www.kitsunelab.it/product/pride-stories-vol-1/> Language: Italian.

“Do Language Models Know Their Slang? Queer Slang Understanding in User-Generated Content” (Arianna Denitto, Beatrice Savoldi, CLiC-it 2026) Language: English.